The Power of God for Salvation

CfaN's year of 50 Gospel Campaigns finished in West and North Africa in November. First came Abuja, an enormous city that is now five times bigger than when CfaN was last there in 2006. We were expecting a mighty move of God to happen, and it did!

The final event of the year was very special to the CfaN team, because it marked a step into prophetic fulfillment.

"From Cape Town to Cairo, Africa shall be saved!"

has been CfaN's rallying cry since God gave Evangelist Reinhard Bonnke a vision of a blood-washed Africa 50 years ago. So, it was fitting and deeply moving for the whole team to see Evangelist Kolenda preaching the Gospel in an open-air campaign in Cairo.

A Move of God

In Abuja – the capital of Nigeria – the crowd was massive, and the energy in the air was electrifying. The field surged like a living, breathing organism, filled with people whose faith and hunger for God were palpable. With great confidence, Evangelist Kolenda assured them that the miracles God would work will echo through generations, with their children and grandchildren still speaking of His wonders there.

After Daniel preached the Gospel and prayed for the sick, a young woman named Balkisu came forward to share her testimony. A Muslim from a nearby town, she had suffered from stomach ulcers for ten years. Hearing about the miracles happening here, she came to see for herself. She testified that as Daniel prayed, she felt something leave her body, and the pain that had plagued her for a decade vanished in an instant. He asked her if she knew the name of the one who had healed her, and she answered, "God." Daniel turned to the crowd and invited them to shout the name of the Healer – and with a sound like thunder, the crowd roared, "JESUS!" Balkisu surrendered her life to Jesus that night – along with tens of thousands of others – the greatest miracle of all!

stomach ulcers

Papa Clement had been enduring a painful ulcer on his back and severe body pain for 20 years. When he heard CfaN was coming to Nigeria, he immediately planned to attend, praying earnestly for healing. The moment he stepped onto the campaign field, the Lord healed him completely!

constant pain

Mary, who had suffered from constant pain and had recently woken up unable to move her left leg, was miraculously healed. After prayer, she walked normally for the first time! With tears streaming down her face, she lifted her walker and came forward to testify. Her sister confirmed the miracle, affirming it was all true. Mary walked before the crowd, proving once again that Jesus is the healer!

On the third night, when Daniel asked how many were attending for the first time, the response was astonishing – easily 70% or more of the vast crowd, stretching to the horizon.

One mother brought her teenage son and shared a heartwarming story. Fifteen years ago, during CfaN's last visit to the area, she had been barren and praying for a child. After receiving prayer, she conceived and gave birth to a boy she named Kolenda. Tonight, she stood on stage with her son, a living testimony to God's faithfulness.

If you'd like to witness that powerful moment from 14 years ago, you can watch it here:

The fourth night was unforgettable. During the testimony time, a woman stepped forward, and Daniel immediately recognized her face. Then she spoke: "I am the one who was healed 14 years ago..." Suddenly, the memory came flooding back, and believe it or not, he even remembered her name!

When CfaN came to Karu in 2010, Placida had been crippled for seven years, enduring multiple surgeries. After her fifth surgery, she was left paralyzed due to spinal cord damage. But during the prayer for the sick, the power of God touched her. She threw down her crutches and walked perfectly!

Evangelist Kolenda said: "I'll never forget that moment back in 2010. While she was sharing her testimony on stage, her sister burst through the crowd and ran to embrace her, and together they wept tears of joy. Tonight, that same woman stood before me once more, her sister beside her. She remains completely healed and has never suffered from that affliction again. Hallelujah!"

Making History

A Prophetic Moment

As we pulled onto the field, it felt like stepping into a moment of history. The field was packed, but the atmosphere was unlike anything we're used to. The crowd was reserved, quiet, respectful. Part of that is cultural, but part of it is the sheer novelty of this event – something unheard of in this part of the world. In a nation where more than 90% of the population is Muslim, preaching the Gospel openly isn't just rare; it's usually forbidden.

For the first time in Daniel's ministry, he preached on a campaign field where a Muslim minaret literally loomed overhead. The call to prayer echoed across the crowd as the service continued. All around were houses and apartment complexes, inhabited by Muslim families, so close we could see into their windows. And yet, the Gospel rang out, loud and unmistakable. Some people sat on their balconies, listening intently.

JESUS MOVED IN POWER

When Daniel gave the call for salvation, the response was so overwhelming we nearly had a stampede. Then, as always, he prayed for the sick, and Jesus moved in power. Miracles happened, undeniable and wonderful. Some were too afraid to testify publicly, worried about the risks to themselves and their families. But nothing could stop Jesus from saving and healing.

Though many countries in Northern Africa are closed to the Gospel, Reinhard Bonnke felt a deep assurance from the Holy Spirit that a move of God would come, one that would open the way for the Gospel to penetrate even the most resistant places. As we closed this chapter in 2024, we can't help but feel we are standing at the edge of that prophecy being fulfilled.
